The Honorable F. Joseph Donohue
President, Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia
District Building
Pennsylvania Avenue & 14th Street, N. W.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Donohue:

The Central Intelligence Agency has need to install communication equipment in the Washington area to facilitate its functions in the national defense effort.

This project involves the construction of an unattended repeater station comprised of a small building and a 200-foot steel antenna tower. Extensive survey to find a location technically suitable resulted in the conclusion that by far the most satisfactory location would be on high ground located within the limits of the property of the District of Columbia. [REDACTED] Approximately four acres will be required for the installation, and several possible sites of this size have been located on the property.
